COLLEGE PARK, GEORGIA 30337

(FULTON/CLAYTON COUNTY)

INTRODUCTION

College Park, gateway to the world via the Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport, is located in the Atlanta Metropolitan Area (1990 population 2,423,862). It is located 10 minutes from the heart of Atlanta's downtown business district on I-85, I-285, and U.S. 29. The Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport in College Park is the hub of flight operations for the Southeast, putting 80% of the nation's population within 2 hours reach.

ELECTRICITY

Provided by College Park Power through the Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia (MEAG), one of the State's largest statewide transmission and power generation systems. College Park Power can reliably serve any size electrical load while maintaining a competitive cost for service. Consumers with an electrical demand in excess of 900 KW may choose to have College Park Power supply power when locating anywhere in the State.

WATER

Design capacity of all water treatment plants in use or under construction: 20 MGD (Million Gallons/Day)*
Average daily water production: 10 MGD
Water available for new customers: 10 MGD
*College Park's water is treated by the City of East Point.

SEWER

The City of College Park participates in the Morning Creek and Camp Creek Treatment Plants with Fulton County and the Flint River Treatment Plant with the City of Atlanta. College Park also participates in the Three Rivers Water Quality Management Program. Specific capacity information is available upon request.

NATURAL GAS/ALTERNATE ENERGY

Served by Atlanta Gas Light Company and available to new and expanding customers on both a firm and an interruptible basis.

AVAILABLE LAND AND BUILDINGS

Over 500 acres of commercial and industrial property adjoining the Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport are available and a variety of sites and buildings are available.

LABOR FORCE

With some 38,000 employees, the Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport is the largest employment district in the State. The principal manufacturing industries in College Park are related to food and kindred products and concrete product. Others include paper, chemicals, fabricated metal, printing and publishing, petroleum and related industries, rubber and plastics, and electrical machinery. A dominate growth sector is service related employment. Since 1991, over 2,000 new service sector jobs have been created in College Park. The 1991 annual average labor force for the area was 1,593,361 according to the Georgia Department of Labor.

EXISTING INDUSTRY

Existing manufacturers include Goode Brothers Poultry Co., Inc. (poultry processing), Atlanta Coca-Cola Bottling Co. (soft drinks), Star Packaging Corp. (polyethylene bags), St. Joe Container Co. (corrugated containers) and Dryden Oil Co., Inc. (oil processing).

TRANSPORTATION

The new Midfield Central Passenger Terminal Complex located in College Park makes the Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport the largest in the world. The airport currently provides 2,100 daily flights to 180 U.S. cities, 140 non-stop. The Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority (MARTA) provides public transportation to the Atlanta Airport, downtown Atlanta, and surrounding communities. Rail service to College Park is served by CSX Transportation with piggyback service and a rail classification yard located just north of the city limits. Motor freight service includes 61 terminals within the Atlanta Commercial Trucking Zone. The highway system includes Interstate 85 and 285, U.S. Highway 29, and Georgia Highways 314, 139, and 279.

TAX AND FINANCE

The city has an ad valorem tax rate of $5.35 per $1,000 and the rate for both Fulton and Clayton Counties are: $19.02 and $14.48 per $1,000 of fair market value. The effective tax rates outside the city limits are: $19.10 and $14.06 per $1,000 of fair market value. The College Park Industrial Development Authority issues industrial revenue bonds for credit-worthy companies that wish to build an industrial facility. The latest issue $27.5 million was for the City of College Park to build the 250,000 square foot Federal Aviation Administration building housing 1400 to 1600 employees.

COLLEGE PARK

GEORGIA'S GLOBAL CITY

City Hall is home to the City's elected officials and City Manager. Together they provide leadership for a City that offers many opportunities for education, fun and growth. The City is divided into four wards from which the members of the Council are elected. Presently, Ward 1 is represented by Russell L. Slider; Ward 2 by Johnny Robinson; Ward 3 by Thomas G. Waller; and Ward 4 is represented by Charles E. Phillips. The presiding Mayor, Jack P. Longino is the chief executive officer of the City. Under the City's Charter, the City Manager is the head of the administrative branch of the municipal government. J. Scott Miller has been the City Manager since May 1994.

Welcome to College Park

We're Georgia's Global City, serving as the gateway for thousands of national and international travelers each day. College Park was incorporated in 1896. It started from small beginnings and has grown into a City of many advantages. The Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport is one of the busiest in the world, and the Georgia International Convention Center showcases 329,000 square feet of exhibit and meeting space. You'll find the best of Southern hospitality in any one of the two dozen plus first rate hotels located here.

College Park is a well established community with an individuality all its own. Here you will find attractive homes, shaded streets, fine churches, top notch schools and community recreation. Its proximity to Atlanta has a distinct advantage to those wishing easy access to colleges and universities, shopping, and other places of interest like Six Flags, White Water, the Martin Luther King Jr. Center, the Jimmy Carter Library and Museum, and Atlanta Underground. College Park has all the benefits of a large city, while preserving the neighborliness of a hometown.

Residents and businesses are served by a City government whose 300 employees provide a variety of services. From necessities such as water, sewer, power, garbage and trash pick-up, police, fire and emergency management services; to amenities such as golf, tennis, library services, and sports events, the City's elected officials and employees are dedicated to making College Park an outstanding city in which to live, learn, work and play. We hope that before long, you'll catch our proud spirit.

Government

Government is an important business for College Park. The Federal Aviation Administration Southeast Region (FAA) is based here; as is state government activity centers in and around the City of Atlanta, which is only 7 miles away. Georgia State University, also located in Atlanta, provides many jobs as well. Approximately 15% of College Park's residents are employed in local, state and federal government jobs.

College Park operates under the Mayor-Council-City Manager form of local government. The Mayor and four Council members are elected from residential Wards, and they make up the governing body. The Council appoints the City Manager who is responsible for overseeing the City's operations. The Council meets on the first and third Monday of each month at 7:30PM in the Council Chambers at City Hall. Citizens' comments are always welcomed. Our location is 3667 Main Street

Economy

College Park's economy is a diverse and stable balance of the industrial, governmental, hospitality and service sectors. Located adjacent to the Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport, the largest economic generator in the Southeast, the City's economy is vibrant with over twenty-five hotels and motels, and the Georgia International Convention Center. The City provides 7,500 rooms for guests travelling to the Atlanta Metropolitan area via the Airport. The Convention Center (second largest in the state) also provides guests for the hotel lodging industry. Other major employers are the Southern Region Headquarters of the Federal Aviation Administration, Coca Cola, Sysco and freight forwarders.

Historic College Park

A large part of the land on which the City now stands was granted in 1846 to Mr. Alexander Ratteree, whose descendants are now prominent in the life of the City. According to the best available records, the next settler who built a home here did not come until 1881. In that year, the first store was erected, and soon thereafter, five homes.

In 1890, the Atlanta and West Point Railway Company built a spur track into this section, and the town of Atlantic City was created. The name was changed in 1891 to Manchester, and again in 1896 to College Park. College Park seemed more appropriate because the City was by then, home to the Southern Female College, more commonly known as Cox College, a prestigious college for women. Paralleling the building of Cox College was the Southern Military Academy, which eventually became the Georgia Military Academy, and today stands as Woodward Academy. To give the town even more of an academic atmosphere, the President of Cox College asked the Mayor and City Council for the privilege of renaming the streets. It was agreed that the avenues which ran east to west would be named for famous colleges; those running north to south were named for famous people. Years later, Cox College was closed, and the City purchased the land and began developing a Civic Center, where City Hall now stands.

The historical significance of College Park can be seen in its architecture, which includes a wide variety of styles and development plans. College Park is one of the few cities that can boast of having a female architect actively involved in planning and design in the 1890's. The City's historical collection consists of homes, monuments, businesses, schools, churches, parks, a cemetery, government building and railway station.

The first Garden Club in the State of Georgia was in College Park, and the City claims credit for the first large outdoors electrically lighted Christmas tree display in the Atlanta area. In 1913, a Board of Trade was organized to "advertise our town, pave our sidewalks, boost our schools, grade our streets, get our proper share of county improvements, and obtain gas". By 1957, the Chamber of Commerce introduced College Park as A City of Business and Friendly People. College Park continues to make progress.

Today, College Park is the fourth largest urban historic district in the state of Georgia, with 867 structures on the Historic Register.

Parks and Recreation

The city's parks offer many opportunities for beauty and relaxation. There are eight locations which can be used year around.

College Park is an ideal playground for those who like to play sports, swim, dance, and enjoy a host of other recreational and fitness activities. Our recreation facilities include the Hugh C. Conley Recreation Center located at 3636 College Street, the College Park Auditorium located at 3631 Main Street, and the Brady Recreation Center located at 3571 Brenningham Drive. The College Park Recreation Department publishes a quarterly newsletter which outlines upcoming recreational programs and sports events. For more information on Park locations and activities contact our Recreation Department (404) 669-3773.

Education

College Park has a long tradition of excellence and diversity in its educational programs. At the heart of the City is Woodward Academy which enrolls students from all over the country. Students and teachers at Harriett Tubman Elementary School, Frank S. McClarin High School and College Park Elementary School come together to study and learn, share ideas, debate, research and teach, emphasizing individual student needs. South Fulton offers a vocational school program for those needing a different option for higher education in the South Fulton area. For more information contact the Fulton County Board of Education (404) 768-3600.

Transportation

Interstates I-85 and I-285, and U.S. 29 pass through College Park connecting to Atlanta and other surrounding areas. I-20 and I-75 are within 8 miles. The Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority (MARTA) system is the nationally known rapid rail system in Georgia. There are 10 local bus routes leading in and out of the City of College Park. The Hartsfield Atlanta Airport is the second busiest airport in the world; and CSX railroad runs through College Park city limits. Most major truck companies cross our highways, and our local taxi service is available to the public.

Useful Information

The City of College Park has a Nuisance Ordinance and a Property Maintenance Ordinance which covers a variety of residential topics. These laws are not meant to restrict your particular lifestyle, but they are designed to ensure that all residents enjoy peace and tranquility; and that the aesthetic quality of our neighborhoods are protected.

- Dogs - are not allowed to roam around without a leash. Residents can have up to 3 adult dogs without being considered a kennel. Dogs must be fenced in; and cannot disturb neighbors with continuous, loud barking.
- Vaccination - all dogs and cats must have a rabies vaccination within 14 days of the animal's entry into the city. Tags must be displayed on the cat or dog, or the owner will receive a court summons, regardless of whether the animal is running loose.
- Grass - cannot be taller than 6". Unkept vegetation and yards full of garbage and trash is a violation of the ordinance.
- Vehicles - must be parked on an established driveway (not on the front lawn). There cannot be any open storage of inoperable vehicles.
- Fences - must be maintained.
- Garage sales - only 2 per year. No charge permits can be picked up at the Police Station.

Violation of these and other related policies will result in fines and/or a court appearance. Thank you for not being a nuisance.
